The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING JULY 29 1872

Report on Wheat for Export

About a week ago we noticed and published a statement with the design to show that it was a very poor policy for us to rely for merchantable profit to our wheat for export by the way we then found that such a policy would always be the policy of the unusual and unprincipled combination and limited monopoly to control the conditions of the property depending for its profitable industry Agriculture cannot be pushed forward by skill by capital and by machinery to the same extent as other productive industries and hence though successful farming requires capital and intelligence yet it cannot be developed in the same degree as other pursuits and agriculture as sole industry must be comparatively unproductive A community devoted to agriculture loses the profit of labor in the higher and more skilled operations and pays with its agricultural products sold at a low price for manufactured articles bought at a high price from those who combine capital and skill Besides every ton of grain exported from the country is an exportation of just so much of the substance of the soil and the business, if continued long, will impoverish any soil in the world These and other considerations we set forth at some length in former articles Our neighbor the Bulletin took issue with us and was quite shocked that an Oregon journal should discourage so profitable an industry as the production of wheat for export But within a few days our neighbor has added an 'agricultural department' to his columns and placed it under the charge of a separate editor, a gentleman of experience and observation, who says at the close of one of his articles that he intends ere long "to speak more fully on the ruinous policy of the farmers of Oregon raising and exporting wheat to foreign markets." We congratulate our neighbor on the prospect of an intelligent discussion through its columns of so important a subject

What the Sequel Shows

A few days since the Herald undertook to say that the OREGONIAN had 'led Holladay to believe before the election that he would get subsidies from the Legislature, but now it has 'basely deserted him We promptly refuted the statement that we had favored subsidies or promised to favor them. The Herald now claims to have converted the OREGONIAN to its way of thinking There has been no 'conversion' we are now just where we have been all along What the sequel proves is not a 'conversion on our part, but misrepresentation on the part of the Herald throughout the whole canvass and since that time

That paper also prints Ben Holladay's letter which appeared in our columns, and says it is proof that the 'course pursued by the Herald has compelled him to abandon schemes which he contemplated a few months ago and by which the State was to be muicted by heavy taxation' Is it not rather proof that the Herald made unfounded allegations respecting these supposed "schemes?" That paper alleged that there was a combination between the Republican party and the 'Railroad King' to plunder and oppress the State There was no such combination. The Republican party never promised to do anything for the "Railroad King," never contemplated doing anything for him, and in a letter to the press he now states to the public what he said positively during the canvass to everybody that inquired on the subject, that he had not a single measure of legislation to ask for.

The facts do not show that any one has been 'converted' by the Herald They simply show that that paper has said very many false things about other people during the last few months.

Misrepresentation Detected

Some days ago the Herald printed a list of subscribers to a fund that was made up in New York for Gen Grant before he became President The way in which our neighbor presented this matter is a remarkable instance of unscrupulousness and dishonesty

The article is introduced with a quotation from Deuteronomy against gift taking by those who have charge over the people Having started out in pious manner the Herald proceeds to an act which can be fitly characterized only by saying that it is both falsification and forgery. It says 'Gen Butterfield, who figures in the business, was an intimate friend of Grant It was arranged between Butterfield and Grant that he, Butterfield, was to go on to New York and get up the subscription in behalf of the then President elect.' And then follows the correspondence between the parties respecting the fund, which amounted to $105 000

Now what will be thought of the Herald's conduct when it is shown that that paper has ante-dated this correspondence for three years in order to make it appear that this gift was tendered to and accepted by Grant after his election to the Presidency and within a fortnight of his inauguration? Yet this is just what that paper has done The fund was raised and tendered to Grant in February, 1866, shortly after the close of the war. The Herald fixes the date in February, 1869, for what motive it is plain to see When this sum of money was made up for Grant he had not been thought of for President Like sums were made up for other Generals conspicuous among whom were McClellan and Sherman. They were free testimonials by citizens for services rendered to the country

To crown all the Herald says that Butterfield was "immediately after' appointed Collector of Customs at New York. This is evidently untrue Grant never appointed Butterfield to that position If any shame is left in that paper the detection of its flagrant violation of truth in this whole business should cause it to "sing small for some time to come

Several Democratic papers have accused the OREGONIAN of "lying,' because it said that Lane had withdrawn from the Democratic Electoral ticket The Roseburg Plaindealer now comes to hand with Lane's letter announcing his withdrawal He says he withdraws because he believes it would contribute somewhat to the cause to have a "Liberal Republican on the ticket That is its first-rate sarcasm Lane doesn't want to run himself, but in order to make all parts of the farce complete he will gladly support Jasper Johnson

That old fashioned Democratic organ the Cincinnati Commoner declare for the Louisville Convention of Straight outs in September Of the Baltimore exploit it says "The nomination of Mr Greeley by Democrats is an amazing fact It is suicide to all engaged in it to him as well as to them He will be beaten by General Grant and they will be compelled to profess an honesty thereafter which they hate

Greeley's 'Honesty

The Herald is absurd enough to say that no one has accused Greeley of dishonesty Passing over the fact that the main body of the Democratic party always accused him of dishonesty till he became their candidate his connect on with Tammany is too notorious to need his chief support in New York comes from the Tammany thieves with whom no decent man would associate Questions put to them disclose that the Democratic party is the Democratic party

Without discussing the propriety of Greeley's forming some of the leading Tammanyites Democratic party is the party of the Union and the Constitution and limited empowerment of the conditions of true prosperity depend upon the unfettered industry Agriculture cannot be pushed forward by skill by capital and by machinery to the same extent as other productive industries and hence though successful farming requires capital and intelligence yet it cannot be developed in the same degree as other pursuits and agriculture as sole industry must be comparatively unproductive A community devoted to agriculture loses the profit of labor in the higher and more skilled operations and pays with its agricultural products sold at a low price for manufactured articles bought at a high price from those who combine capital and skill Besides, every ton of grain exported from the country is an exportation of just so much of the substance of the soil and the business, if continued long, will impoverish any soil in the world These and other considerations we set forth at some length in former articles Our neighbor the Bulletin took issue with us and was quite shocked that an Oregon journal should discourage so profitable an industry as the production of wheat for export But within a few days our neighbor has added an 'agricultural department' to his columns and placed it under the charge of a separate editor, a gentleman of experience and observation, who says at the close of one of his articles that he intends ere long "to speak more fully on the ruinous policy of the farmers of Oregon raising and exporting wheat to foreign markets.' The Tillamook Mail Service

For some time complaints have been coming to us from subscribers in Tillamook county that their papers do not reach them The following, from the West Side seems to explain the reason Let us have this delinquency investigated

We have heard complaints against the conduct of the mail carrier to Tillamook until forbearance ceases to be a virtue William Squires who has had the route arranged to suit his own convenience does not recognize by trying to suit the wants of his constituents We have reliable authority that he sometimes misses as much as three weeks mails before making a trip He has a boy to carry the mail from Portland to the Mountain House and lets it lay there until it is convenient for him to cross the mountains Last Saturday he took away three weeks mail and said he would not be back again for a month or six weeks, and in the meantime the whole country is kept waiting on the pleasure of this one man Another trick he has that the people can't well stand When the mails are too heavy for him he selects that directed to men that he don't like, and leaves it behind Not long since he sorted out a lot of mail and said those men had helped get him convicted, and they would have to wait for their papers We have all this from men who we know to be reliable, and we appeal to Mr Underwood for the exertion of a little authority in the matter, and let us see what the laws of the United States say on the matter Postmasters too can help by refusing to sign his papers unless the mail is carried according to contract

To What Base Uses

The Chicago Times (Dem) is moved by the report of Gratz Brown's recent illness in New York to inquire what would have been the result had he died, so far as relates to the Democratic party It asks

Do Democrats imagine that the Baltimore Convention would have been reconvened to nominate a candidate for the Vice Presidency? If so, they err vastly. That body voted itself a side show to the Cincinnati Convention, and would very properly have been taken at its own valuation The latter body would have reassembled and selected a candidate, after which it would have been competent for the gentlemen who have just departed from Baltimore to come together again, if they saw fit, and ratify the selection It is to such base uses that the great national Democratic party has come at last, through the machinations of the men who have sacrificed at once its self respect and its capacity for usefulness.

At San Francisco on the 23d inst, at the regular meeting of the Twelfth Ward Grant and Wilson Club a document signed by twenty eight Democrats was presented in which the signers stated that as the leaders of the Democratic party had proved false to their trust and had indorsed the nomination of Greeley, who had always been the bitterest enemy of the Democratic party, the signers of the document had determined to support the Grant and Wilson ticket in order to defeat Greeley It was stated that there were fifty more Democrats in the ward willing to do the same thing

"An Open Letter, addressed to the party of the name of Matlock, published elsewhere in this number of the OREGONIAN, is remarkably well written We yield space for its publication chiefly because it points a moral of very general application The party of the name of Matlock hungering for office and missing two or three times successively, the objects of his desires, thought he saw a better chance in the Greeley camp, and betook him thither The whole strength of the Greeley movement depends on just such motives as this The party of the name of Matlock is a type of all the rest Ab uno disce omne

The West Side, alluding to the Herald's discovery that "whole neighborhoods of Republicans in Yamhill county are going for Greeley says the story is 'barefaced invention It says there is 'just one Greeley Republican in the county and he has for many years been considered partially insane, which accounts for his action in the case' The West Side adds that many of the Democrats of Yamhill refuse to support Greeley, and that Grant will carry the county by 200 majority

Messrs Clark & Craig have become proprietors of the Farmer (published at Salem Their announcement appears in Saturday's issue of that paper In undertaking to furnish an agricultural paper they assume a task necessarily difficult but we trust they will succeed

Next after the Tammany ring in enthusiasm for Greeley comes the Mormons at Salt Lake They support the 'philosopher because of his known penchant for social "isms and are against Grant because he enforces the laws that interfere with their 'peculiar institution

The famous American Club of New York has re organized for the active support of Horace Greeley It was temporarily disorganized for want of a quorum when Boss Tweed and his friends of Tammany were exposed in their stealings by the N Y Times Among the members of the re organized Club are Boss Tweed Andrew J Garvey (the Court House plasterer Edwin Haggerty inducted ex chief James H Ingersoll Court House chairmaker John H Keyser (hanging stove dealer Jay Gould Erie Ring man George G Barnard (impeached Supreme Judge Richard M Tweed and William M Tweed Jr Judge McCunn was a member but death severed his membership after his impeachment

Very well sir said a Democrat to us last week as my party has finally confessed that Republican ideas are right and Republican amendments of the Constitution and Republican legislation are to be maintained I will go for Grant who carried these ideas amendments and laws to success —Philadelphia Press

AN OPEN LETTER

ROSEBURG July 2 18

To the Party of the name of Matlock

SIR Do you recollect that during last fall and winter you were wont to speak of Grant's Administration as very creditable and to wish success generally? Can you now truthfully say your predictions that Grant would be renominated without opposition be used all your influence and that which you controlled by the Democratic Party in the war for the suppression of the rebellion? Have you not left no stone unturned in the work of defeating Grant and you were sure that they would stand by the honest and worthy Chief Magistrate on which Grant was giving them

You have recently been a number of your efforts to secure the nomination for Prosecuting Attorney for this District so I will let that pass But I wish to call your attention to your very recent effort to join the noble army of Grant's officeholders at whom you now sneer with so much affectation of disgust You will recollect that it has been but a very short time since you attempted to secure the appointment of Receiver for the new Land Office established at Linkville Oregon Of course it is still fresh in your memory how you called on leading Republicans here to solicit their aid in your behalf for this appointment At this time you were not denouncing the Administration as imbecile, 'selfish and 'peculating, But failing in your efforts to enroll yourself among "Grant's office holders and to secure place and profit with 'Grant & Co, the last opportunity for getting office having slipped away, you at once find the Administration very corrupt and up goes your hat for Greeley Your expectation evidently is that in the event of Greeley's election there will be a new distribution of offices throughout and your support of him will be rewarded with position and greenbacks So soon should for H G and Reform

Permit me as one of your neighbors to remark that this sort of venality is anything else than a recommendation for any man with the people of Douglas county Your motives and your conduct are well understood and neither party will trust a man who makes such sudden somersaults simply for office Depend upon it you will obtain no party's confidence and will never succeed here

Yours, ROSEBURG

CITY.

DRIVE THEM DOWN.—We are pleased to note that the street Commissioner has notified the owners of property that unsafe and in many places quite dated sidewalks must be repaired, and the nails driven well down. There is scarcely a lady in the city whose dress has not at some time or other been torn or a man whose toes have not been stubbed by these nails. All certainly have good reasons to remember these annoyances. Rain and much use the alternate expansion and contraction of the plank besides the constant passing to and fro have worked the spikes loose and caused them to project from one fourth to an inch above the surface of the walks. Until recently owing either to an absence of any ordinances or the violation of an existing one, these serious and almost dangerous obstructions to the pedestrians have remained undriven. As before stated, the Street Commissioner has taken the thing resolutely in hand, and proposes to compel the respective owners of walks to keep them in a good condition or repair, and also the heads of the nails level with the planks, for which the thanks of a grateful public will be his. It can with safety be estimated that these spikes, which have cut so wasted such a fondness for bunions and silk skirts are great promoters of profanity among men and of not a small degree of a milder species of "mental anathematizing" by the ladies. Morality as well as convenience demand the suppression of these obtrusive spikes.

PASSENGER LIST.—The following are the passengers now on board the John L. Stephens, en route for this city, which sailed from San Francisco last Saturday. Colonel J R Wheat, Mrs [illegible] and child, Mrs Dodge and daughter, J J Dodge, J J Hunt, E B Mastick jr, Mrs William E Dall and son, Miss Thorpe, Miss Bancroft, Thos Mellore and wife, L Samuel J Lightner, George B Waldron, Mlle Geretta, Etcliontague George L [illegible], Rev G F Whitworth and daughter, J M Whitworth, Mrs N B Eddy and child, Anna Johnson, Miss Anna Burkhardt J B Yost, J M Hagar and wife, Mrs C Tibbetts and wife, Ed Curtis and wife, Mrs O Canfield, F Moiss and family, H Weeks D Smith, O W Loveridge and daughter P H Milroy, J W Milroy, W J Milroy, Mrs M Rosbland, child and servant, Miss Pelagie, J H Dewory, Lewis T Scott, C A Bahon A Stout, Mrs J Mansfield Miss E Bell, Mrs C Jordan, H Jackson, F M Bacon and wife, P L Ippett and wife, W Jackson and wife, Mrs O Sherman, M Metropsky and wife, E K Hall, wife and mother, E F Calhy and wife, Miss M C Degnire, Wm Steel and family, Ed Brown, Capt W Thomas and family, Mrs Beaker and daughter.

NEW BUILDING.—Saturday the fixtures, etc, of the Police Court, Judge's and Commissioners' rooms, were removed from the old quarters on Alder street between Front and First to the new Police Court and City Jail, corner of Second and Oak. Hereafter offenders will be tried at the new and splendidly provided quarters. The first court in the new building will be held this morning by the Police Judge. In the course of a few days all the prisoners now in the old jail will be removed, and that old public eyesore forsaken to the owls and bats, to which it should long since have been abandoned. Both inside and out the new building is one of the most handsome in the city. The prisoners' cells, Captain's office and dark cells are on the first floor. The Police Court, Commissioners' and Chief of Police's rooms, and also the Judge's office are on the second floor. In the third story are the cells designed for the women and boys, and prisoners under sentence. The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department will also have a room in the third floor.

ACTIVITY.—Work on Smith's mammoth brick building is progressing with all possible vigor. A portion of the excavation has been completed and the foundation work commenced. The block presents a scene of chaos. Immense piles of brick are scattered about, and the debris of the old building, which formerly occupied the site. A number of workmen are, however, engaged in removing these obstructions as rapidly as circumstances will admit. The two old brick structures have been leveled with the ground and the brick carefully separated from the age-hardened mortar. These bricks are found to be about as good as when removed from the kiln, and will probably be used in the contemplated building. A few such buildings as the proposed one, will add many degrees to to the solidity and business appearance of the city.

FAILED.—The splenic announced to have been held yesterday at the East Portland Park, under the auspices of Dexter & Helton, did not come off in consequence of the unfavorable weather. About half past 9 o'clock A M yesterday, the gentle dews of Webfoot commenced to descend. Until about 4 o'clock in the afternoon the rain fell in showers, with an occasional streak of sunshine sandwiched between. Of course the anticipated pleasures of the day were interrupted, the military band did not arrive from Vancouver, and so the project was abandoned. Had pleasant weather been vouchsafed, there would no doubt have been a large attendance, and the occasion would have proved an enjoyable affair.

TEXAS BEEF.—We learn from the Dalles Mountaineer that a band of 60 head of Texas beef cattle arrived at the Dalles on last Thursday, en route for this city to supply the various meat markets here. They would hardly compare for fat and weight with the average run of cattle in that section of the country, yet, no doubt, they will make good beef. These cattle were brought into the country last season, since which time they have had the benefit of the "nutritious" bunch grass, which accounts for their much improved condition and appearance, for which Eastern Oregon is so justly celebrated.

QUIET DAY.—Sunday in Portland, when the weather is fine, is generally quite an enjoyable day. Between attendance on the various churches, a sail on the river and a dash out to the White House, the people manage to pass the time away in a very agreeable manner. But yesterday was a dull day in every particular. It is true the rain did not materially interfere with attending church, but it was too cool for a drive and the wind was too high and the water too rough to appreciate a sail.

RETURNED.—The other two daily papers have given publicity to the alleged "mysterious disappearance" of the young man Silas Kelly. There has been no foundation whatever for the report. Mr Kelly is now in the city, alive and perfectly well. He has been absent from the city during the past week visiting some friends in the country. He is at a loss to conceive how such a foundationless report could have been started.

MAIL MATTERS.—A letter from Postal Agent Underwood, dated Salt Lake July 22d, states that he has ordered all the mails for Portland and the valley offices to be sent via Sacramento. This will save about three days' time on papers which have been sent by way of Boise City. Mr Underwood is now on his way home. He will come by Boise and Canyon City to look after the recent mail robbery in that section.

HORSE STEALING.—We learn that two Indians stole a pair of horses from a farmer residing on the road between Vancouver and East Portland one day last week. The thieves were tracked to Vancouver and from thence to the Cascades, where all traces were lost. The owner of the animals at last accounts was in pursuit of these noble red men of the woods.

SPORTSMEN'S CLUB.—A number of sportsmen assembled at the Police Court room on Saturday evening to take steps toward the further organization of a Sportsmen's Club. The several committees reported progress. The meeting adjourned until next Saturday, when a permanent organization will be effected.

DETAINED.—The steamer A was detained from sailing on Friday evening in consequence of some breakage of her machinery. She was compelled to anchor in the stream for day night, opposite the wharf. The repairs being completed she steamed down the river Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

SIX MORE CASES.—Six more cases were tried before Justice Ryan last week by parties learning to have rendered services as policemen. After a hearing judgment was rendered adverse to the city. The city attorney gave notice of appeal.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Grace Tilton arrived here on Saturday three days from Victoria. She brought a light freight and the following passengers: Samuel Smith wife and three children and A D Strahan.

DISCHARGED.—The jury in the case of the state vs. Ben Marshall, indicted for subornation of perjury failing to agree on any verdict were discharged on Saturday by the Court.

ASTORIA CORRESPONDENCE

Under date of July 26th, our special Astoria correspondent says:

I returned from Clatsop Beach last evening. Stopped, during my stay there, at the Ocean House, kept by T B Morrison, Esq. Feasted on "bivalves, crabs, fish, game, and all the delicacies of the season. Had a good time. The amusements are horseback riding, rowing, foot racing, jumping, hunting, sea bathing, fishing, catching crabs, flirting" &c. There are now two or three vacant rooms at the Ocean House and Mr Grimes has a few rooms ready for guests at his new house but the Summer House is full to overflowing.

Mr Holladay has bought the Summer House and surrounding grounds and is now making many fine improvements. He intends to clear the grounds of the rocks and boulders, prune up the trees thin out the undergrowth construct walks and avenues and build a house large enough to accommodate 200 guests.

A four horse team ran away, near the Summer House on the evening of the 24th seriously injuring the driver, Mr David Morrison.

With the exception of hay, the crops on Clatsop Plains are better than usual.

The steamer Emma Hayward with Capt Ainsworth R R Thompson, S G Reed (General Sprague and their families on board, is here on a pleasure excursion. Yesterday the party went to Baker's Bay and Cape Disappointment, and today they visited Young's river. They leave for Portland in the morning.

This morning the Tillamook schooner came in over the bar and sailed up the river for Portland. The brig Orient went to sea yesterday morning. She was towed out by the tug Astoria. Yesterday morning the steamer Geo S. Wright came down from Portland and went down to the bar to take soundings of the different channels, but before she had completed her work her propeller became fouled, in some unaccountable manner, and refused to work, so her officers were compelled to hoist sail and run her out to sea for safety where they anchored and fired guns and raised signals of distress which were perceived by the tug Astoria, which went to her assistance, but refused to tow her in for a less sum than $2 000. This was refused, and she remained out at anchor all night. This morning the brave little Tornado put out to bring her in but as she reached the disabled ship the Gussie Telfair was sighted coming down from Victoria, and being much abler than the little tug, hitched on and towed the Wright to Astoria. She is now beached, and when the tide goes down her propeller will be repaired.

It was stated in the papers that the authorities would not permit the steam tug Merrimac to tow at sea. That is a mistake. She now has license to go anywhere and to tow or carry passengers.

The Dixie Thompson brought down about fifty passengers this evening.

Weather fine and cool.

A FENCING CLUB.—A party of gentlemen in this city, who have taken their degrees in the art of fencing, have in contemplation the organization of a club, in this city, which shall be devoted to the practice of the foil, rapier, broadsword and bayonet. A large quantity of the material necessary for such purpose has already reached here from San Francisco, and as soon as the summer heat begins to wane the Club will enter into active operations. Many persons have doubtless read of fencing, yet few have any distinct knowledge of it. Some suppose it to be similar to that peculiar to the stage, while others imagine it to be nothing more than a rude attempt of one adversary to hit another. It differs materially from these in fact bears them no similarity. We were witness of a fencing bout the other evening between two experts of this city, and were so pleased that we will attempt to give our readers a description of what we saw. The opponents wore of the Celtic race and hailed from those opposite sections of Great Britain where the race is most numerous. Their distinctive nationalities will be inferred from their remarks. Both having doffed their coats, hats and shirt collars, each placed an iron mask, made of good strong wire, over his head and secured an elastic steel blade in his gloved hand. One bounced on the floor and assuming a theatrical attitude shouted buoyantly,

"My foot is on my native heath,
And my name is Rob ——"

Says the shorter adversary "Come down to Limerick," at the same time making a thrust at the assumed Rob, which immediately forced him to erect and vigilant attitude. Both then gracefully saluted each other, crossed foils, placed the left hand in a carving manner over the head and with toe upon the mark were prepared for action. The attitude was expressive of vigilance. After several ineffectual feints the Hibernian made a peculiar movement and gave a sharp vigorous thrust. This was parried by the Scot who immediately made what fencers call a riposte, and struck his opponent below the belt. "D—n it" said the other, good naturedly, "I deserved that for making such a movement. I am glad you did that." Both again resumed their attitude and made several thrusts at each other, but no use. the points would not reach the body, though how the eye and arm could follow the quick and often peculiar movements of the blade which darted past each other in every direction was a matter of surprise to the uninitiated. At last the Hibernian gave his adversary a vicious lunge in the sword arm. "Good," said the Scot and laughingly acknowledged the blow with a salute from his foil. We noticed in these thrusts that every time the right foot was extended with the movement of the foil, the left arm was brought along the thigh, and on recovering point on guard, resumed its original attitude over the head. After a few more lunges which proved ineffectual they saluted each other gracefully with the foils to indicate that the assault was finished and then commenced what they called the "school" in which the words tierce thrust disengage flanconnade coupe double and other outlandish terms were heard. After a disarm the one accomplishing the feat would go for the sword and crossing it over his own would present the handle to his opponent, the latter would receive and acknowledge the courtesy with a salute of the foil. Broadsword exercise followed. This was apparently too vicious an exercise for one would often receive a tremendous cut on the head, leg or arm. But they seemed indifferent to it at least they manifested a stoical fortitude and acknowledged each blow with a smile and a salute. We noticed that they were most obliging ously polite toward each other, yet did not spare heads or arms whenever a cut upon them could be given. We were pleased with the exercise and concluded that the safety of our head and tender flesh was more desirable than to learn how to split a follow scientifically, gracefully and smilingly. For young men however especially those of sedentary occupations, no exercise is better, as it develops all the muscles, and also the eye and quickness of brain.

FLAG DOWN.—During one of the severe gusts of wind that prevailed yesterday afternoon the flag which Captain Blanchard usually keeps flying on Sundays in the staff near his house was caught and badly torn. The wind whipped it to shreds almost and then wrapped it around the end of the pole in such a manner as to effectually prevent the halliards from working. The staff will probably have to be cut down before the rope can be freed from the torn banner.

PARK AMUSEMENTS.—The East Portland Park will be opened on the 5th of next month under the auspices of George B Waldron. On the occasion will appear for the first time here Ed Montague and Mlle Geretta, the celebrated gymnasts acrobats and aerial suspension and many other attractions.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

My Little Laborer.

A very mom, with fingers soft and tender
As any lady's fair,
Sweet eyes of blue, a form both frail and slender,
And curls of sunny hair,
A household toy, a fragile thing of beauty—
Yet with such strong sun
Beg to am round of ti— a— m duty,
That must be duly done.

Today he's building castle, house and tower
With a rude art and skill,
Or labors with the hammer by the hour
With strong, determined will
And, with loaded cart he— ing
A brick and dirt road o'er,
Anon, with thoughtful, earnest brow, is trying
Some book's dark lore to read.

Now, ladies like some little beast of burden,
He drags himself along
And, now his lordly little voice is heard in
Boisterous shout and song.
Another hour is spent in busy tooting
With hoop, and top, and ball,—
And with a patience that is never failing,
He tries and conquers all.

But sleep at last o'ertakes my little lover,
And on his mother's breast,
Joys thrown aside, the day's hard labor over
He sinks to quiet rest;
And as I fold him in my bosom sleeping,
I think, mid gathering tears,
Of what the distant future may be keeping
As work for manhood's years.

Must he, with toil, his daily bread he earning
In the world's busy mart,
Life's bitter lesson every day be learning,
With patient, struggling heart
Or shall my little arch never be handing
Some monument of fame,
On which, in letters bright with glory's gilding,
The world may read his name?

Perhaps some humble, lowly occupation,
Not shared with sweet content,
Perhaps a life in toiler, grander station,
In selfish pleasure spent.
Perhaps these little feet may cross the portal
Of learning's lofty fame,
His life work to scatter truths immortal
Among the sons of men?

The San Francisco Republican tells the following story concerning one of the leading Democrats and best known of California:

It is well known that the Hon. Zack. Montgomery is one of the most thorough-going Democrats in Alameda county, and an eminent lawyer. C. E. Driscoll, who keeps a salt-water bath house at Oakland, where Zack. takes his saline ablutions, said to him the other day: "Mr. Montgomery, I suppose you go for Greeley?" "No, sir," said Zack., "I do not." "Well, do you intend to stump the State for Grant?" "No, sir; I won't do that either." "Well, now, Mr. Montgomery," said Driscoll, "if you will stump the State for Greeley, I will give you all your baths hereafter free." Zack. replied, "That is kind in you, sir, and very appropriate; for a man engaged in a job as dirty as that would be out to bathe at least three times a day. But as I don't propose to engage in anything quite so nasty I shall not need so much washing."

The fortifications in process of construction by the German engineers at Strasbourg are of the most colossal character. On the side toward France they are making a vast intrenched camp, which will be capable of holding two hundred thousand men. The camp is to be supported by five principal forts, and these are so placed that, until their reduction, it would be impossible again to bombard the city. It is calculated that reinforcements and supplies can always be sent by the Rhine—via Kehl—and thus the project is to make of Strasbourg a sort of inland Sebastopol. Until, therefore, a great military commander, another Napoleon, shall arise to disregard tradition, and march past fortresses, leaving them contemptuously in his rear, France will apparently have to submit to see what was once one of her great strongholds made greater for the benefit of a foe, and to learn to forget her old dream about the frontier of the Rhine.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

SATURDAY, July 27, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 114¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87c buying; 88 selling.

The steamship John L. Stephens, which sailed from San Francisco to-day, may be expected here on Tuesday night.

The steamship Gussie Telfair, from British Columbia and Puget Sound ports, arrived early this morning.

The bark Almatia will go down the river and load with Salmon and Lumber for San Francisco.

The Fallinbury goes down to Rainier, where she will load with Lumber for Honolulu, and return with a cargo of Sugar.

Importations of the following articles, at San Francisco, so far for the present year, are compared with importations for the corresponding period of 1871:

	1871.	1872.
Coffee	7,606 151 lbs.	8,312,431 lbs.
Rice	20,126,729 lbs.	22,768,134 lbs.
Sugar	28,896,291 lbs.	33,009,766 lbs.

The chief source of the supply of Coffee for the San Francisco market is Central America; of Rice, China and of Sugar, China, Hawaii, Java, Manila and Peru.

Poor's Railway Manual has the following on, American railroad progress: "The total length of railroads in the United States during the year 1871 was 60,382 miles—a distance equal to two and a half times around the globe. The increase last year was 7,463 miles—the largest gain in any one year. The increase was larger in Illinois than in any other State, but Massachusetts still remains the banner railroad State, having a mile of road to every 4.36 miles of territory. The cost of the railroads now in actual operation in the United States is estimated at $3,000,000,000. The cost averages about $50,000 a mile, but the expense of constructing railroads seems to be steadily decreasing—the cost of the line being estimated at only $37,000 a mile, or $225,000,000 for the whole.

The Boston Shipping List of July 17th, in its article on wool, says that Pacific coast wools cannot now be marketed at the East except at a loss of fully 10 cent, a pound on first cost. It says that advices from abroad are not such as to warrant a higher range of prices on this side for the present. The holding-on policy this year has been a very unprofitable one. The large clips of the world, from Australia, New Zealand, Montevideo, Buenos Ayres and other places have been mostly disposed of at current market rates, and have passed into the hands of manufacturers and dealers, while we alone have been holding on for fancy prices that never can be realized.

In Eastern markets an advance of 25 cents per barrel on all first-class brands of flour is reported. Oregon flour at Boston was quoted at last mail dates at $10@10 50 per barrel. This, of course, is currency, and leaves a very slender margin for shipment. In Chicago No 1 spring wheat now commands about $1 25 per bushel. The New York Bulletin of July 15th says: "The winter wheat crop has been harvested in Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee, Southern Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, and there are not few complaints of a short crop. The winter wheat crop of Michigan is estimated, will average thirteen bushels per acre, giving a surplus, over the wants of the population for food and seed, of five million bushels, equal to about one million barrels of flour." The value of wheat here depends so largely on the condition of European crops that our people have special interest in all information relative to crop prospects there. An English journal of recent date says: "We do not consider that the English wheat crop will be more than an average. On the contrary, we think there is reason to believe that it will be rather under than above an average. In some districts the plant is very thin, the furrows being plainly visible from the roadside; but at the same time, where the soil is properly drained, either naturally or artificially, the crop promises exceedingly well. Dry weather is now what is required, more especially as the plant will be in bloom in the south in the course of a few days. In early localities it is undergoing that stage of development, and consequently under favorable conditions. There is a likelihood of the crop varying greatly in the yield this season, and probably those who have farmed badly will have themselves or their landlords, or perhaps both themselves and their landlords, to blame for neglecting or imperfectly carrying out a system of drainage. The season appears to have been one that will test the skill of the farmer, and in which, therefore, many valuable lessons and hints ought to have been acquired."

Domestic Produce.

WHEAT—Quotations coming through from San Francisco by telegraph are unchanged. There is now no movement in this market, and probably will not be till there is a pressure to sell the new crop.

FLOUR—No changes yet to note in quotations. The Asiatic for San Francisco to-day took out no Flour. Considerable shipments will probably be made to Puget Sound this week.

OATS—Market merely nominal at 70@75c per bushel.

EGGS—Under fine receipts prices have grown weaker. Now quotable at 20@22½c per doz.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 5, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, does reaffirm the principles proclaimed by the first Republican National Convention, and pledges itself anew to the support of the principles declared by the people in the platforms of 1864 and 1868, and to the maintenance of the institutions created in pursuance thereof, and insists that in the administration of the Government the conduct of public affairs and the use of the public property shall conform to the principles of honesty, economy and official responsibility which we demand in the administration of a municipality or State.

1. During the days of peril the Republican Party was raised to power by the voice of a great people. It has organized victory, established liberty for all, and founded equality before the law. It has survived the slanders of its enemies, and become stronger with every assault. Having brought the country out of the gloom and danger of civil war, it proposes to leave to the States and the people the duty of self-government, and to secure to every citizen, under the Constitution, equality of rights and the free and equal exercise of all political powers.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectively maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation, but her law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can safely be trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. We demand that the Constitutional rights of complete amnesty for political offenses be at once granted throughout the land. Mourning for the loss of many gallant leaders who have been prematurely stricken down, justifies us in regarding the past in the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not subject the Government, in any party or combination of men, to the penalty of losing the chiefly have resisted every step in the beneficial progress of the nation.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, as fatally dangerous to liberty as it is certain to bring the service of the country into disrepute and to destroy its efficiency, and we therefore favor such an extension of the present system as will limit appointments to fitness, with permanency during good behavior, and make promotion depend on merit and capacity, to be ascertained, as far as may be, by competitive examinations.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and declare that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and as much more as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be applied by Justice on imposts, which should be adjusted so as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor, to promote the industries and growth and to increase the prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the gratitude of the American people. We favor the most liberal legislation consistent with the honor and welfare of the Government to all who have served it in the field or on the sea, and to the widows and children of those who have fallen in battle.

9. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the gratitude of the American people. We favor the most liberal legislation consistent with the honor and welfare of the Government to all who have served it in the field or on the sea, and to the widows and children of those who have fallen in battle.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognizes the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of those two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain localities recently lawless and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption of specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to correct all rights practiced by the people in the States, as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of assuming unwarranted laws for the purpose of removing evils by the hands of men with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the National Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.
